

Target Market Determination

Magellan Infrastructure Fund (Currency Hedged) (Managed Fund)

Legal disclaimer

This Target Market Determination (TMD) is required under section 994B of the Corporations Act 2001 (Cth) (the Act). It sets out the class of consumers for whom the product, including its key attributes, would likely be consistent with their likely objectives, financial situation and needs. In addition, the TMD outlines the triggers to review the target market and certain other information. It forms part of Magellan Asset Management Limited's design and distribution arrangements for the product.

This document is not a product disclosure statement and is not a summary of the product features or terms of the product. This document does not take into account any person's individual objectives, financial situation or needs. Persons interested in acquiring this product should carefully read the Product Disclosure Statement (PDS) for Magellan Infrastructure Fund (Currency Hedged) (Managed Fund) (MICH) before making a decision whether to invest in this product.

Important terms used in this TMD are defined in the TMD Definitions which supplement this document. Capitalised terms have the meaning given to them in the product's PDS, unless otherwise defined. The PDS can be obtained by calling +61 2 9235 4888 or by visiting our website at www.magellangroup.com.au

Target Market Summary

This product is likely to be appropriate for a consumer seeking capital growth and a regular income and can be used within a portfolio where the allocation to the product is up to 25% of investable assets. It is likely to be consistent with the financial situation and needs of a consumer with a minimum investment timeframe of seven years, and a high risk/return profile for that portion of their investment portfolio, and where withdrawal proceeds are typically available to the consumer within two business days of a withdrawal request.

Description of Target Market

This part is required under section 994B(5)(b) of the Act

TMD indicator key

The Consumer Attributes for which the product is likely to be appropriate have been assessed using a red and green rating methodology:

In target market	Not considered in target market

Instructions

In the tables below, Column 1, Consumer Attributes, indicates a description of the likely objectives, financial situation and needs of the class of consumers that are considering this product. Column 2, TMD indicator, indicates whether a consumer meeting the attribute in column 1 is likely to be in the target market for this product.

Investment products and diversification

A consumer (or class of consumer) may intend to hold a product as part of a diversified portfolio. In such circumstances, the product should be assessed against the consumer's attributes for the relevant portion of the portfolio, rather than the consumer's portfolio as a whole. For example, a consumer may seek to construct a conservative portfolio with a satellite/small allocation to growth assets. In this case, it may be likely that a product with a High or Very High risk/return profile is consistent with the consumer's objectives for that allocation notwithstanding that the risk/return profile of the consumer as a whole is Low or Medium. In making this assessment, distributors should consider all features of a product (including its key attributes).

Appropriateness

Note: This section is required under RG 274.64–66

Magellan has assessed the product and formed the view that the product, including its key attributes, is likely to be consistent with the likely objectives, financial situation and needs of consumers in the target market as described above, as the features of this product in Column 3 of the table above are likely to be suitable for consumers with the attributes identified with a green TMD Indicator in Column 2.

Distribution conditions/restrictions

This part is required under section 994B(5)(c) of the Act.

The product can be distributed:

1. To consumers on-market (via the Australian Securities Exchange).
2. Through specified distributors or distribution channels such as an investment or superannuation platform or wrap product. The issuer of each platform product has its own obligations as a distributor to take reasonable steps that will or are reasonably likely to result in retail product distribution conduct being consistent with this TMD.

It has been determined that the distribution conditions and restrictions will make it likely that new consumers who purchase the product are in the class of customers for which it has been designed. We consider that the distribution conditions for this product are appropriate and will assist distribution in being directed towards the target market for whom the product has been designed.

Review triggers

This part is required under section 994B(5)(d) of the Act.

Material change to key attributes, fund investment objective and/or fees.

Material negative deviation from benchmark / objective over sustained period.

Definitions

Term	Definition
Consumer's investment objective
Capital Growth	The consumer seeks to invest in a product designed to generate capital return over the investment timeframe. The consumer prefers exposure to growth assets (such as shares or property) or otherwise seeks an investment return above the current inflation rate.
Capital Preservation	The consumer seeks to invest in a product to reduce volatility and minimise loss in a market down-turn. The consumer prefers exposure to defensive assets (such as cash or fixed income securities) that are generally lower in risk and less volatile than growth investments.
Income Distribution	The consumer seeks to invest in a product designed or expected to distribute regular and/or tax-effective income. The consumer prefers exposure to income-generating assets (typically, high dividend-yielding equities, fixed income securities and money market instruments).
Consumer's intended product use (% of Investable Assets)
Up to 100% of investable assets	The consumer may hold the investment up to 100% of their total investable assets (see definition below). The consumer typically prefers exposure to a product with Very High portfolio diversification (see definitions below).
Up to 75% of investable assets	The consumer may hold the investment up to 75% of their total investable assets (see definition below). The consumer typically prefers exposure to a product with at least High portfolio diversification (see definitions below).
Up to 50% of investable assets	The consumer may hold the investment up to 50% of their total investable assets (see definition below). The consumer typically prefers exposure to a product with at least Medium to High portfolio diversification (see definitions below).
Up to 25% of investable assets	The consumer may hold the investment up to 25% of their total investable assets (see definition below). The consumer typically prefers exposure to a product with at least Medium portfolio diversification (see definitions below).
Up to 10% of investable assets	The consumer may hold the investment as a satellite part of their total portfolio, up to 10% of the total investable assets (see definition below). The consumer typically prefers exposure to a product with at least Low portfolio diversification (see definitions below).
Investable Assets	Those assets that the investor has available for investment, excluding the residential home.
Portfolio diversification (for completing the key product attribute section of consumer's intended product use)
Low	The product provides exposure to a single asset class, single country, with low or moderate holdings of securities - e.g. high conviction Australian equities.
Medium	The product provides exposure to a moderate number of holdings (for example, up to 50 securities) in at least one broad asset class, sector or geographic market (for example, Australian fixed income securities or global natural resources).
Medium to High	The product provides exposure to two or more asset classes, multiple countries or broad exposure within asset class, e.g. Australian equities "All Ords".
High	The product provides exposure to a large number of holdings (for example, over 50 securities) in multiple broad asset classes, sectors or geographic markets (for example, global equities).
Very High	The product provides exposure to a large number of holdings across a broad range of asset classes, sectors and geographic markets with limited correlation to each other.

Term	Definition
Consumer's intended investment timeframe
Minimum	The minimum suggested timeframe for holding the product. Typically, this is the rolling period over which the investment objective of the product is likely to be achieved.
Consumer's Risk (ability to bear loss) and Return profile
Issuers should undertake a comprehensive risk assessment for each product.
A consumer's desired product return profile would generally take into account the impact of fees, costs and taxes.
Low	The consumer is conservative or low risk in nature, seeks to minimise potential losses and is comfortable with a low target return profile. Consumer typically prefers defensive assets such as cash and fixed income.
Medium	The consumer is moderate or medium risk in nature, seeking to minimise potential losses and comfortable with a moderate target return profile. Consumer typically prefers a balance of growth assets such as shares, property and alternative assets and defensive assets such as cash and fixed income.
High	The consumer is higher risk in nature and can accept higher potential losses in order to target a higher target return profile. Consumer typically prefers predominantly growth assets such as shares, property and alternative assets with only a smaller or moderate holding in defensive assets such as cash and fixed income.
Very high	The consumer has a more aggressive or very high risk appetite, seeks to maximise returns and can accept higher potential losses. Consumer typically prefers growth assets such as shares, property and alternative assets.
Consumer's need to access capital
Issuers should consider in the first instance the redemption request frequency under ordinary circumstances. However, the redemption request frequency is not the only consideration when determining the ability to meet the investor's requirement to access capital. To the extent that the liquidity of the underlying investments or possible liquidity constraints (e.g. ability to stagger or delay redemptions) could impact this, this is to be taken into consideration in completing this section.
Daily/Weekly/Monthly/Quarterly/ Annually or longer	The consumer seeks to invest in a product which permits access to investment proceeds at this frequency under ordinary circumstances.
Consumer's timing for investment proceeds
Daily/Weekly/Monthly/Quarterly/ Annually or longer	The consumer seeks to invest in a product which facilitates the payment of investment proceeds at this frequency under ordinary circumstances.
Distributor Reporting
Significant dealings	Section 994F(6) of the Act requires distributors to notify the issuer if they become aware of a significant dealing in the product that is not consistent with the TMD. Neither the Act nor ASIC defines when a dealing is 'significant' and distributors have discretion to apply its ordinary meaning. The issuer will rely on notifications of significant dealings to monitor and review the product, this TMD, and its distribution strategy, and to meet its own

Term	Definition
	obligation to report significant dealings to ASIC. Dealings outside this TMD may be significant because: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • they represent a material proportion of the overall distribution conduct carried out by the distributor in relation to the product, or • they constitute an individual transaction which has resulted in, or will or is likely to result in, significant detriment to the consumer (or class of consumer). In each case, the distributor should have regard to: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • the nature and risk profile of the product (which may be indicated by the product's risk rating or withdrawal timeframes), • the actual or potential harm to a consumer (which may be indicated by the value of the consumer's investment, their intended product use or their ability to bear loss), and • the nature and extent of the inconsistency of distribution with the TMD (which may be indicated by the number of red ratings attributed to the consumer). Objectively, a distributor may consider a dealing (or group of dealings) outside the TMD to be significant if: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> • it constitutes more than half of the distributor's total retail product distribution conduct in relation to the product over the reporting period.
